A THOUGHT FOR EASTER

From the beginning of time, men have hailed the coming of spring as the resurrection of the earth from the death of winter. Long before the Christian era began, every religious cult celebrated in one way or another the returning season of growth and sunshine, with its promise of life beyond the grave. If the dead trees and grasses could so demonstrate immortality, why should man die to rise no more?

In a few days the whole Christian world will join in testifying, on Easter Sunday, to its faith that death is not the end, that life goes on forever, in a new and unknown but more glorious form, that we earthbound beings can no more imagine than can the maple tree or the wistaria, shedding its scarlet robe of autumn under the killing breath of winters' frosts, imagine the glory of the springtime garments of green which it will wear in its new life.

The belief that this is true that there is a life beyond death, a life of release from toil and sorrow for such as truly believe and strive to live up to their belief has been the most powerful force in the history of our modern civilization. In this faith men have found a common tie of mutual service for the common good. All of the concepts of duty, honor, self-denial, self-respect, and loyalty upon which great nations have been founded derive from the faith which is the very root and heart of Christianity.

Let no one say that the faith of our fathers is out-moded, that it no longer has its power to inspire our lives. We are living in troublesome times, and those of little faith are crying aloud that the old truths have failed, the old beliefs are dead. But even as they scoff, spring brings her perennial symbols of the eternal life. And this coming Easter Sunday millions upon millions of believers will meet to testify anew to the truth that their faith is a living faith, that it still rules the hearts of men.

To The People of the Federal Constituency
Battle River-Camrose

The date of the federal election has been announced, and during the forthcoming weeks the people of Canada must give thought to the election of a government.

There are a number of issues which will be debated during the election campaign. We of the Progressive - Conservative party believe that the most important issue of all is the preservation of the parliamentary system of government which is in danger now. Grain marketing, inflation, freight rates, rising costs of production, falling farm prices—none of these problems can be solved while the government party has an overwhelming majority and the opposition is divided into several weak parties.

We are proud to be able to point out that, of the parties which have been in Her Majesty's Loyal Opposition, only our party has continued to elect members from all regions of Canada and from both language groups in Canada.

We believe that in John Diefenbaker we have a leader eminently fitted by training and experience to become our country's next prime minister. His emphasis upon the rights of the individual and upon the need for a solution to the problems faced by Canadian agriculture had won recognition from all before he was elected leader of the party by supporters.

We believe that in Cliff Smallwood we have a candidate well qualified to become our representative in the House of Commons. A farmer by occupation, he brings to his task a knowledge of agricultural problems gained by years of practical experience.

During the next few weeks we shall do all that we can to place the Progressive-Conservative platform before you by means of public meetings, advertisements in the press, messages by radio.

We invite your comment, criticism and co-operation.

The executive—Battle River-Camrose Progressive-Conservative Association.

Allen Ronaghan, president.

Report From Ottawa
Correspondent

I have received a number of bitter and sometimes sarcastic letters from Old Age Pensioners about the latest increase in their pensions. I well remember when the first Old Age Pension of $20 a month was paid and nearly everyone receiving same thought it was wonderful. A misconception seems to have arisen in the minds of a great many people as to the design and intent of these pensions. Surely no one would contend that $48.00 per month is sufficient for anything better than the most meagre sort of living. It is not now, and never was, intended as full support for any more than the Family Allowance was intended to pay the full cost of bringing up children. It is not meant as a substitute for thrift but intended to supplement private resources and, added to such other income as most industrious and thrifty men and women possess, it can represent the difference between penury and comparative ease. It is not yet accepted by most of our citizens that Canada is a welfare state and owes a living to all its people, of any particular age, occupation or profession, out of public funds. In cases of real necessity there are supplementary grants and various schemes of relief by provinces and municipalities and I suggest that this is a better way to deal with individual cases than to automatically increase pensions to a point where we will discourage thrift.

A Farm Variety Plot

Continuing a service that was started several years ago with very successful results, the Crop Testing Plan will again be glad to send, free of charge, a set of true-to-variety seeds of some 30 different varieties of grains, enclosed in an envelope and ready for seeding, to any farmer who is willing to sow and care for a small plot on his farm. Such a plot will provide an opportunity to compare the performance of different varieties under local conditions.

These lots of seed include not only the standard varieties of wheat, oats, barley and flax but also some of the newer varieties which have been licensed recently. As the number of sets available is limited, preference will be given to requests received from districts that are located some distance from an experimental farm. In this way, those who would not ordinarily have the

THE TALE OF THE WILTED WEEDS

(There's just no future in being a weed)

Once, when the West was younger, a family of weeds had a homestead that looked better every year, especially up on the north forty. Then about 1880 a farmer came along. It turned out alright, though, because the farmer just planted some wheat and the weeds could deal with an outsider like that.

The farmer and that family fought tooth and nail, thorn and thistle, for about 67 years and it looked like the weeds were going to win hands down until the farmer's son learned about chemical weed control. Well, sir, the first spraying of 2, 4-D just about broke up the weed family. There were so few of them left that summer, the wheat yield nearly doubled. Every year, a few weeds sneak back but it looks as though there's just no future in being a weed.

Morale: The value of chemical weed control has been proven beyond any doubt, but weeds need control every year. The National Grain Company wants to help in every way, by selling the best possible equipment and a choice of chemicals for weed control. Call on your National agent soon, won't you?
